UP TO VOTER TODAY TO PICK GOOD JUDGES

Women, Voting Only on Bonds, Labor for Bench Nevertheless.

FINAL CLAIMS ISSUED.

STOP! READ! DON'T FORGET!

TODAY is election day for judges. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. Every registered man voter has the right to vote for judges. If you have moved since registration you can have your vote sworn in by a householder in the precinct in which you now live. Women can vote on the "little ballot" proposition. Remember TODAY is the day!

Campaign managers closed their doors yesterday after sending out their final appeals. These were directed to ward and precinct leaders and urged them to drag voters to the polls today. Thousands of volunteers from women's organizations, it was announced at both old party headquarters, will aid in getting voters to the polls, although the women cannot vote for the judicial candidates. The fact, however, that they can vote for all bond proposals and the proposed annexation of Stickney to Chicago has been the lodestone, reports show, that has attracted nearly all organized election day workers among women, and they are combining their share in the voting with efforts to arouse men voters.

Women to Be Given Credit.

If there is a comparatively large vote today it will be credited to the women workers, who, the headquarters reports show, have displayed an interest in the judicial contest little less marked than that of the recent city election.

This situation, according to Acting Chairman John C. Canner of the Republican managing committee, augurs well for the full Republican ticket. The fact that the Progressive leaders have been working sincerely for the success of the whole Republican ticket, he said, meant the solid Republican strength, and the larger the total vote the better it will be for the organization state.

Bond Proposals Favored.

One reason, he said, that the women have responded in such large numbers for election day work is that the bond proposals appeal especially to them, particularly the proposed extensions and improvements in the parks and the plan to increase the facilities at the poor farm for taking care of the indigent and the homeless and the unfortunate.

While there has been some friction among the women's organizations as to the advisability of supporting the proposed bond issue for a new county jail and criminal court building at this time, the party chiefs expressed confidence last night that all bond proposals will be accepted.

All Candidates Confident.

As to the judicial candidates, final statements by the several managers reiterated practically the forecasts of the closing week. Mitchell D. Pollanen, president of the Chicago Bar association, talked for the first time during the campaign yesterday. To a Tribune reporter he said: "The nonpartisan ticket approved in the bar primary is a good ticket and if elected will go a long way toward establishing a wider confidence in the judiciary held by the lawyers. The Bar association is confident of the success of the ticket."

WHICH IS THE BETTER CITIZEN?

The man who talks about patriotism and respect for the law, but who doesn't sacrifice enough of his time to go to the polls to vote for good judges? OR The man who doesn't talk, but who takes the time to go to the polls to vote for good judges upon whom respect for the law necessarily depends?

Judicial Ticket Recommended to Voters at Today's Election

THE candidates before whose names a cross is placed in the list below are those endorsed by the Chicago Bar association. "The Tribune" recommends these candidates to its readers as having the preference of the most authoritative professional judgment which the voter will be safe in following.

The names are given in the same order as they will appear on the ticket so that voters, if they so desire, may clip this list and take it into the voting booth as a convenient guide and prevent mistakes. The Socialist and Independent candidates are not given, as none was endorsed by the Bar association.

It is important to note that where one group of candidates runs against another similar group, as the groups above of twenty candidates each, the election law is that the twenty receiving the highest number of votes win.

It is permissible under the law in such case to vote for two candidates, one Republican and one Democrat, whose names are printed opposite each other on the same line.

It is permissible to vote for less than twenty, but if you vote for more than twenty the ballot is not counted for any of the persons voted for in such group.

H. G. Hawker Makes New Altitude Record for Britain in 80 Horsepower Biplane.

LONDON, June 6.—Flying an eighty horse power biplane at Hendon yesterday, H. G. Hawker broke the British altitude record of 14,500 feet by rising to over 20,000 feet.

Writer for London Paper Says Moslem Army Is Being Decimated.

BIG GAIN FOR ALLIES.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, June 7, 3 a. m.—The casualty lists for the week-end are the heaviest issued since the war began. They include 80 officers and 5,620 men, of whom 1,674 were killed. This brings the total British losses during the last week to 900 officers and 20,000 men.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, June 7, 3 a. m.—The Turkish army operating in the Dardanelles is slowly but surely being decimated. Thousands of wounded—50,000 in round numbers—are being housed in Constantinople, and 50,000 additional dead and wounded is the cost of the defense against the combined attacks of British, territorial, and French.

BAR WOUNDED AT CAPITAL.

The constant pouring of wounded into the Turkish capital has had such a serious and depressing effect on the people that orders have been given to the army commanders to send no more afflicted into the city.

As a result they are being sent to places on the Asiatic side of the Sea of Marmora and several thousands even have been sent to Smyrna. The foregoing information is contained in a dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from its Athens correspondent, who says he gathered the data from reliable sources.

FINISH OF TURKS NEAR?

Continuing, the correspondent says: "It is obvious the Turks will be unable to stand for long such depletion of their forces, strong though they are. The struggle for Gallipoli is like that in Flanders and France. It is largely a matter of munitions.

"Of late it has been noticed that the Turks are extremely sparing in the use of shells.

"Another factor that is causing the Turks a great deal of trouble is the grip of our submarines in the straits and on the Sea of Marmora. When a submarine recently penetrated so far as to be within range of the guns at Seraglio point, at Stamboul, and under fire of those guns, together with those at Scutari, on the Asiatic side, sank a German ship and a lighter, serious panic was caused in Constantinople and all shores were hurriedly about.

"My informant tells me that the decline of the Turkish resisting power has begun to set in seriously and its breaking is merely a matter of time."

DESCRIBES HARD FIGHTING.

That terrific fighting is in progress is indicated in an official report from the war office describing the recent fighting in the Dardanelles.

According to this report the general advance attempted by the allied troops on the Gallipoli peninsula on Thursday and Friday netted a gain of 500 yards on a front of nearly three miles.

It appears, however, that the various divisions of the allies, after making still more substantial gains by dint of great gallantry, were unable fully to hold these gains because of the activity of the Turkish artillery and on account of fierce counter attacks.

The Indian troops especially were subjected to disappointment of this kind. Losing two trenches they had gained by magnificent advances because the troops on their right were held up by barbed wire and thus the Indians were left open to an enfilading fire.

ROUMANIA READY TO GET INTO WAR; TROOPS MOBILIZE

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.) BUCHAREST, June 6.—The king signed a decree today ordering general mobilization. It is believed that this move signifies that the date of the entry of Roumania on the side of the allies has been decided on and that hostilities will be begun without delay.

PARIS, June 6.—According to the Geneva Tribune, Roumania re-mitted a note to Austria on May 23 demanding territorial concessions and fixing June 6 as the time limit for a reply. Bulgaria is giving its support to the note. Austria is ready to concede one-eighth of the Roumanian demands.

LONDON, June 7, 6:07 a. m.—A semi-official statement issued at Petrograd, says a Renter dispatch, states that the Russian transport Yanisai has been sunk in the Gulf of Riga by a German submarine, while Russian mines and submarines have sunk three German steamers. Only thirty-two men were saved on the Yanisai.

LONDON, June 7, 3:58 a. m.—Turkish communications, according to an Athens dispatch to the Morning Post, is being supplied from a factory recently established by the Krupp near Constantinople. This factory employs 4,000 German workmen in addition to a large number of Turks. Shell-pipe is being manufactured by a new electrical method.

GERMAN GASES WIPE OUT HOST

Numbers of Women, Children, and Soldiers on Bzura-Rawka Line Die.

LONDON, June 7, 4:00 a. m.—Telegraphing from Petrograd, the Morning Post correspondent says: "The effects of the German gas warfare on the Bzura-Rawka front has been so terrible that it is feared here it will be necessary to revise all the generally accepted text book ideas regarding the choice of terrain for military operations."

Gases Flow Down Valley.

The Russian positions on the Bzura-Rawka line were technically perfect, but down the center of the long valley the gases flowed as through an earthen trough. The scenes which followed were appalling. Every living thing suffered. Hardly a horse, or cow, or fowl remained alive. Women and children as well as other noncombatants and soldiers were killed in large numbers.

A careful study of the patients showed that in most cases where death did not immediately result they were attacked with fits like those following tetanus the first day, which recurred on the third day, and were followed by death. Post-mortem examinations showed dilated hearts and spleens and watery blood. The Russian experts declare that the gas probably contains chlorine, bromine, and iodine.

Ten Gas Zeppelins Ready.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Copenhagen sends details of a new type of Zeppelin constructed for carrying poisonous gases. The new airship, he says, has three tanks carrying these gases below the navigating chamber and also apparatus for manufacturing the gases during a voyage. The crew is smaller than that of the old Zeppelins. The speed is much greater. It is reported in Copenhagen that ten of the new type already have been built.

Chums Drowned in Power Canoe; Day's Toll Seven

Two Meet Chopping Sea on Way to Mother; Companion Escapes.

TWO OTHERS ARE LOST

The lure of the lake on the first summery Sunday in weeks cost the lives of seven persons yesterday.

Everett Karl of 60 East Forty-third street and Albert Quiller of 834 East Fifty-fifth street, chums since grammar school days, purchased a canoe and attached a motor device.

Young Quiller was only 19 and the sole support of an invalid father and mother—put out in the craft with a boy friend from Forty-second street. He had not gone far when he found himself in difficulty against a stiff southwest wind, and after much trouble succeeded in landing the boy at Thirty-ninth street. There he was joined on the shore by young Karl and Adam Rice of 4147 Lake Park avenue, night engineer at the Lake Shore hospital.

Trip to Lincoln Park.

A trip to Lincoln park was suggested, and the three started out together. The light craft went slipping through the water without trouble until a point about 200 feet off Thirtieth was reached. There the water became choppy under the off shore breeze, and the waves began breaking over the low gunwales. Karl and Rice began bailing.

A moment later fishermen on the shore telephoned the police and the life saving station. They had seen the canoe upset and the three figures splash into the water.

They saw the three men swim away from the boat, and the next time they looked there was only one. Rice alone reached shore. He was dragged from the water exhausted.

Try to Change Seats.

Three men and a boy attending a picnic of the Columbian Knights in River Grove west of Chicago, were killed yesterday when the boat they were in was overturned. The boat was crowded with about twenty people. The men were struggling in the water and began searching for a boat to go to the rescue. Without waiting Benjamin Tomlinson, marshal of River Grove, threw off his coat and swam out to them. He seized the boy and one of the men, and succeeded in assisting them to shore. By the time boats reached the scene no trace of the other two was found.

Marshal Tomlinson did not learn the names of either the victims or the rescued, but the police were informed those drowned were Victor Zalkoff and Charles Ajnsel of 3038 South Harding avenue. Frank Radt, secretary of the lodge, said the rescued boy was a son of Zalkoff and that the man rescued was a brother.

Exchanging seats cost another life when George Van Wassen of 111 West One Hundred and Ninth street fell out of a gasoline launch into the Calumet river near Westworth avenue.

Two Fall Off Pier; Drown.

Two men were drowned by falling from a pier. Fishermen on the Fourteenth street pier saw William Fricks lose his balance and tumble into the water. Before they reached the spot where he struck the water he had disappeared. Life savers recovered the body. Fricks was 45 years old and lived at 925 West Eighteenth street.

An unidentified man either fell or leaped into the lake from the end of the Irving Park boulevard pier.

SLATON TO HEAR PROTEST ON FRANK COMMUTATION.

Governor of Georgia Will Listen to Solicitor Dorsay in Case Prison Board Recommends Action.

Atlanta, Ga., June 6.—Gov. Slaton has granted a request of Solicitor Dorsay to be heard in opposition to the commutation of the death sentence of Leo M. Frank. "In the event the Frank case comes to the governor's official notice," this statement was given out tonight by the governor.

The Frank case is in the hands of the state prison commission, which is expected to make its recommendation to the governor this week.

OBREGON WINS CRUCIAL FIGHT OF FIVE DAYS

Takes All Trains and Artillery of Foes, Then Pursues Them North.

BATTLE OVER BIG AREA

Vera Cruz, Mex., June 6.—A smashing victory for Gen. Obregon over General Villa and Angeles is announced in a report received here today.

Gen. Obregon, leader of the Carranza army, has captured Leon and routed the forces of Gen. Villa, after a battle lasting five days and covering a zone of 300 miles.

He is pursuing the enemy, which is reported to be fleeing northward. All trains and artillery of the Villa army have been captured, it is declared.

This battle has been described as the greatest of the war, both in regard to the area contested and the intensity of the fighting. The casualties are known to be in the thousands.

Obregon's Report of Victory.

The report of the battle comes directly from Gen. Obregon, and is as follows: "I have achieved an important victory. After a five days' battle Angeles and Villa, with small groups of followers, fled in different directions. Our forces are pursuing them north of Leon.

"Leon has been occupied by the Carranza troops. All the enemy's trains and artillery were captured. The battle extended over a zone of 300 miles.

"I have ordered the reconstruction of the railroad and telegraph with Vera Cruz."

Battle Lines 15 Miles Long.

The battle of Leon, which town has been the headquarters of Gen. Villa, has been raging in desultory fashion for nearly two weeks. Solid battle lines of fifteen miles in length have been hurling themselves against each other, and until today's dispatches no decisive turn in the fighting had been reported.

The rout of Gen. Villa is declared here to be of extreme significance in view of the ultimatum from the United States last week. With the majority of the disputed territory in the hands of Gen. Carranza and the victory at Leon, it is said that Villa's elimination as a factor in the Mexican situation is quite probable.

In the event the advantage of Gen. Obregon is pushed farther, Carranza's standing certainly will benefit and thus add to his possibilities of receiving recognition by the United States. It is believed here.

Eighteen Nuns Flee Mexico.

New York, June 6.—Eighteen Spanish nuns refugees from Mexico, were among the seventy passengers that arrived here today on board the Spanish liner Manuel Caive.

Five of the nuns had to don secular dress; they said, in order to escape from Florida. Yucatan, where they had a school.

Famine Tangle Grows Worse.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(Special.)—That drastic measures may be necessary in order to relieve the famine situation in Mexico was made known to the administration today.

From all parts of Mexico came reports that the various leaders have obtained control of such quantities of food as are on hand, and that they are "gouging" the Mexican people at every opportunity. Also reports indicating an unwillingness of these leaders to cooperate sincerely with the United States in its effort to give assistance were received.

The complete details of the plan for Mexican relief have not been worked out yet by the American Red Cross. It is certain, however, that the government is back of the Red Cross in whatever plan it decides upon as the most suitable for the situation.

The administration is perturbed at the apparent indifference on the part of citizens of the United States to its appeals for Mexican relief contributions. Less than $20,000 has been contributed so far. More than $10,000 of this has been given in New York, where two contributions of $5,000 each were made by concerns interested in Mexican properties.

ITALIAN FLEET RAIDS DALMATIA; ALL CABLES CUT

Destroys Lighthouses and Damages Cattaro Railroad;
Keep Up Land Successes.

BULLETIN.
UDINE, Italy, via Paris, June 6.—Information has reached here that grave disorders have occurred in Trieste. It is declared that buildings have been sacked and that for three days anarchy has prevailed.

The population of the city, which normally is about 250,000, including about 170,000 Italians, has been reduced to less than half that number.

The city council has been dissolved, the mayor and aldermen being arrested and deported, together with the most prominent citizens. The troops have been withdrawn and the police are making no effort to prevent looting.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
ROME, June 6.—The Italian fleet yesterday raided the coast of Dalmatia. Lighthouses were bombarded and destroyed and serious damage was caused to the railway from Ragusa to Cattaro, which has been supplying munitions to the Austrian garrison in the latter port, besieged for ten months by the Montenegrins.

A destroyer flotilla resumed the bombardment of Montenegro, on the railroad from the Friuli frontier to Trieste, while larger ships cruised the waters at the head of the Adriatic without sighting enemy vessels.

Ministry of Marine Report.
The announcement of the ministry of marine was as follows:

"Naval detachments yesterday cut the cables uniting the continent to the islands of the Dalmatian archipelago. All the lighthouses and lookout stations of these islands were destroyed. The railway between Cattaro and Ragusa was bombarded and seriously damaged.

"The same day a group of our destroyers, which were unsuccessfully attacked by Austrian aeroplanes, again bombarded Montenegro and sank several sailing craft laden with merchandise. Large vessels supporting the destroyers cruised in the same waters without seeing the enemy."

Military operations on the entire front on the Trentino borders are limited to artillery duels. The Italians are making progress at every point, according to a report from Gen. Cadorna, the chief of the general staff. The report says the Italian artillery is vastly superior to that of the Austrians.

Land Forces Progressing.
The first important battle of the Italian campaign on the Friuli front is for possession of Tolmein, on the upper Isonzo, where the Italians have met with the first serious opposition in their advance in this direction. No details of the fighting are obtainable.

Austrian War Report.
VIENNA, via London, June 6.—The official war report covering operations against Italy says:

"On the Tyrolean and Carinthian frontier the enemy confines himself to a fruitless artillery fire, avoiding a closer range on our positions."
"In the region of Lavarone and Feltre we have opened fire, and the heavy artillery duel is becoming more violent."
"In the fighting at Monte Naro the Italians have sustained considerable losses, on the southern slope 300 Italian dead being found."

British submarine E-11 on Constantinople. My informant early one morning intended crossing from Pera to Istanbul and instead of walking over the bridge he took a small boat. The sea had hardly a ripple on it.

"He suddenly noticed about sixty yards from the landing place what appeared to be a stick floating upright in the water and moving towards the bridge. The sight amazed him as the current obviously was setting in the contrary direction.

"He looked hard and saw a white trail gliding swiftly through the blue green water. It instantly flashed through his mind that the object was a torpedo. He rose hastily in his excitement, nearly upsetting the boat. He could clearly follow the course of the deadly engine as it made straight for a big Turkish army transport called the Stamboul."

"There was a shattering explosion and an enormous column of water was flung up and the wounded ship settled down by the stern. A second explosion followed amidships, and in a few minutes nothing was to be seen but a tangled mass of half submerged wreckage.

A third torpedo hit the customs house quay without, however, doing any damage. My informant took out his watch. It was 5:42 a. m. There was terrible commotion on the shore. Boatmen, instead of attempting to save lives, ran as if for their lives.

The bridge was suddenly teeming with police and soldiers rushing distractedly about, some firing rifles. The submarine meanwhile lay on the surface, shining in the sun. An officer came on the look-out. He went below and the craft sank beneath the water, and with only the periscope showing moved rapidly down stream.

Four Shells at Submarine.
Shortly after there was a deep booming and a swirl of shells bursting all over the surface of the water. Batteries on the hill behind Kasim Pasha and St. Sophia showered shells, unintermittently for half an hour. It was a perfect waste

EXPERT PREDICTS GERMAN ATTACKS ALONG WEST LINE

Dardanelles Must Fall Before Russians Can Assume Offensive on Large Scale.

BY A MILITARY EXPERT.
Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—The next few weeks in the European war promise to be momentous ones.

Both the allies and Germany are expected to initiate bold offensives on the western frontier. The allies must do something more than their present nibbling along the Dardanelles. Russia, for the time being, is out of it, in view of the loss of France and its failure to check the Austro-German advance at any point. Personally, I do not think the Germans will attempt further inroads on Russia just now, as the more likely course seems to be to strengthen their western line, where short but regular gains have been made from day to day recently by the French. However, it would not be surprising if Gen. Mackensen makes a dash for Warsaw and it would not be any more surprising if he captures that city.

The present weakness of Russia is fraught with great danger for the allies. Unless Russia can be bolstered up immediately Germany will be able to devote its entire attention to proceedings on the western front and the fighting there will be anything but desultory.

Dardanelles Is a Key.
For this reason the allies must succeed in their campaign for the control of the Dardanelles. Victory there now means a tremendous weakening of Germany, not only through the ammunition and supplies which will be made accessible for Russia, but also through the inclusion of the Balkan states, Roumania and Bulgaria, in the allied group of powers.

Russia, with millions of men, has little ammunition. The Russian army has not had sufficient ammunition at any time. Its work has been truly marvelous considering this fact. At the present time, however, it is so weak in this particular that it would not be an impossibility for Germany to put it out of the combat for months to come if Germany can afford to keep the men away from the western front and to take chances on sending them far into Russia.

With the Dardanelles open and ammunition pouring through, even if Bulgaria and Roumania continued to remain out, the Russian army can be counted upon to make another advance.

Italian Campaign Opening.
There is bound to be some stiff fighting in the Austro-Italian campaign soon. Thus far, the Italians have advanced steadily, with little more than a pertinacious resistance on the part of the Austrian army. Both land and naval engagements may be expected.

It is not wholly improbable that Italy has dispatched a large army to the Dardanelles. Italy undoubtedly could afford to do this, especially if its assistance is all that is needed to insure victory.

Thus far the allies have shown little military intelligence in their work on the Gallipoli peninsula. Had they made their original assault with a sufficient force they probably would control the peninsula today. As it is, they are being forced to debate every inch of it.

DOCTOR CLAIMS WOMEN ARE FIT TO BE SOLDIERS

Feats of Endurance of Fair Sex.

Feats of Endurance of
Fair Sex.

Boston, Mass., June 6.—[Special.]—Women could be made as fit for military duty as men, in the opinion of Dr. D. A. Sargent of Harvard university, who has given more than half a century of study to problems of physical training. He says that sex is no handicap to military training and cites many examples of physical feats performed by women.

"Every day," Dr. Sargent said, "I am astonished at the physical and mental possibilities shown by young women still in college and those who are already out in the world making good."

"Almost daily I find it necessary to revise my carefully worked out theories and formulas as to what young women can do, until now I find it safest not to suggest the limits of their capabilities."

"In the stories that come to us of the Lusitania tragedy we have accounts of several women who swam about for many hours until rescued. What they did any aboriginal, well trained woman might have done. Perhaps you will recall that at the time of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence a child only 10 years old swam and floated about for several hours and seemed none the worse for her adventure."

"All theories to the contrary, women are capable of marvelous endurance, and so on this score cannot be rated ineligible for training for military service."

WILSON DELAYS SENDING OF NOTE TO ADD STRENGTH

President Will Demand That Germany Pledge Safety at Sea to Neutral Ships.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—The dispatch of President Wilson's reply to the German note has been delayed, it is learned tonight, for the purpose of strengthening the arguments supporting the American demands.

President Wilson will send his draft of the note to Counselor Lansing of the state department tomorrow for perfection of the phraseology pertaining to citations of international law. Mr. Lansing expects to be able to return the final draft to the president not later than Tuesday, and as soon as Mr. Wilson gives his approval the rejoinder will be coded in the official state department cipher and mailed to Berlin. It is to be made public upon its receipt in Berlin, probably forty-eight hours after its dispatch from Washington.

Studies Guilt Incident.
The principal feature of the note which the president thought it necessary to strengthen is that relating to the attack on the American steamer Guilford, resulting in the death of the captain and two members of the crew, all Americans. The German government has sought to remove from the controversy between Washington and Berlin the case not only of the Guilford but of the American steamer Cushing, which was attacked with bombs by a belligerent aviator, supposedly German. In a note dated May 28 Berlin disavowed any intention of deliberately attacking the Cushing and asked for more information of the complaint in the case of the Cushing and pronounced the torpedoing of the Guilford an "unfortunate accident" for which the German government promised reparation.

View Held by President.
Mr. Wilson holds that what Germany has said of the Guilford pertains only to the question of responsibility and reparation. He views the attack on this American steamer, resulting in three fatalities, as impairing Germany's defense of the submarine warfare on commerce and as strengthening the American contention that the captor must visit and search a prize and move noncombatants to place of safety before destroying the vessel.

The United States, in the opinion of the president, cannot accept as satisfactory expressions of regret and offers of reparation for an "unfortunate accident" when the cause of the disaster is the deliberate attack on the Guilford by the captain with these cardinal rules of warfare on shipping would prevent the mistaking of a neutral for a belligerent vessel and would make "unintentional and accidental" attacks impossible.

Demands Explicit Statement.
It was for the purpose of eliciting the American argument with this concrete illustration afforded by the Guilford case that the president has withheld the dispatch of the rejoinder. Although changes have been made in other particulars, the note as it stands tonight is essentially the document outlined in THE TRIBUNE yesterday.

It sets aside as irrelevant all of the German contentions except the charge that the Lusitania was an armed auxiliary of the British navy, and the truth of that assertion the note denies. It calls on Germany to say whether it intends to comply with international law in the future as a prerequisite to further discussion of the acts of which the United States complains.

President Wilson has no fear that war will be the outcome of the controversy between the United States and Germany. He does not contemplate a declaration of war by the United States if Germany should refuse to make the required assurances of future conduct. The farthest he would go in that direction would be the severance of diplomatic relations with Berlin.

Germany May Retaliate.
Nor does the president contemplate the declaration of war by Germany even in the event of severance of diplomatic relations. It is conceivable, however, that a rupture of diplomatic relations would precipitate events which would make war inevitable. German officials have stated recently that in the event of a severance of diplomatic relations with the United States Berlin would feel relieved of restraint altogether in the prosecution of the submarine warfare.

ACCUSES ENEMY OF ATROCITIES

Belgian Statement Makes Many Charges Against the Germans.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—The Belgian legation issued a statement today in denial of the German accusations made in the recent "white book" of the organization of Belgian citizens into corps of "franc-tireurs" for the purpose of sniping the German army. In its effort to refute the German charges the Belgian legation asserts that the German atrocities in Belgium have been horrible beyond any belief. It declares that the Reuter investigation, as well as the "white book" conducted by the Belgian government, proves the Germans to be barbarians in their methods of conducting war.

"Up to the present time," says the statement, "information has been received of forty-nine priests and members of religious orders who have been put to death in Belgium by German troops. Some of them were frightfully mutilated and tortured."

Says Germany Violated Treaty.
In conclusion, the legation says: "It is useful to call attention to the fact that the German government, which in its 'white book' frequently cites the Hague convention, began the war by the most flagrant violation of that convention in attacking, without right or justice and in disregard of a solemn treaty, a peaceable, small and neutral nation whose only offense was that she, in her turn, refused to violate a treaty or to abandon her neutrality for the benefit of Germany."

Denies Accusing U. S.
BERLIN, via London, June 6.—Gen. von Bissing, the German governor general of Belgium, was recently quoted by a New York newspaper as having criticized American relief work in Belgium and as saying that it was in no sense a charity but that the Americans received payment for all grain and supplies furnished, with the exception of certain clothing from the Rockefeller foundation.

Gen. von Bissing has informed the American embassy in Berlin through the foreign office that he must have been misquoted. He had no intention, he says, of casting doubt on the fact that part of the grain sent to Belgium represented gifts, or of intimating that the foodstuffs had been disposed of otherwise than as directed by the govern.

RUSSIANS HURL RESERVE ARMY AT FOE IN GALICIA

Teuton Allies Appear to Be Checked in Drive on Lemberg, Report in London.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
LONDON, June 6.—The two Austro-Slovak armies which are pressing through Galicia in two directions toward Lemberg, the last Russian base in the province, are meeting a desperate resistance at the hands of the czar's troops. Though the official statements issued today in Berlin and Petrograd disagree, both give indications of hard struggles which give promise that the final settlement of the issue will be delayed several days at least.

It is believed the Russians have hurled a huge army of reserves into the fray. From Petrograd comes the announcement that Austro-German attacks on Russian positions near the village of Krutskia, eight miles south of Moscia, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Teutons.

Germans Lose Trenches.
The further announcement is made that the Russians have captured several German trenches on the right bank of the San between the Lubowia and Sikla rivers, in the neighborhood of Koronka. A further advance by the Russians is indicated by the announcement that they have retaken the village of Starawa, on the left bank of the Wicinia, which the Teutonic forces captured soon after the evacuation of Przemyśl.

Petrograd does not assume to believe that anything like a definite check has been administered to Gen. von Mackensen, for the official statement adds that "the Germans still maintain a hold on the neighboring heights."

Russ Jammed Back to Moscia.
According to Berlin, the Russians have been forced as far as Moscia. That there is hard fighting on the Dunster is indicated by the war office statements in both capitals. Berlin asserts that Gen. von Linsingen has stormed a bridge head and is about to force a passage of the river near Zurawbe, about forty-five miles south of Lemberg.

The latest advice from Petrograd refers to continued attacks against the bridge heads, but give no indication that the fighting there is near an end. The repulse of four desperate assaults on Russian positions near Ugraschew, in which the czar's troops made effective use of bayonets and hand grenades, is reported.

HIGHLAND PARK'S LEPER ESCAPES; MAYOR RELIEVED

Angelo Lunardi Taken from Highland Park Jail by Friends
After Advance Notice.

Angelo Lunardi, Highland Park's hide and seek leper, is out again. He had been missing since Monday, but the village authorities are not spending any great amount of time or money looking for him. For several months Lunardi has been a privileged resident in the new Highland Park lockup. His plight recently stirred the sympathy of a number of his countrymen. The Highland Park authorities, while seeking some way to get rid of their infected white elephant, found themselves threatened with suit for detaining him illegally.

"Out to Dunning."
Monday evening The Tribune's north shore reporter missed Lunardi. He hadn't been "at home" since morning. "O, we've sent him out to Dunning," explained the chief of police.

Yesterday the reporter, armed with facts, put the question of Lunardi's whereabouts up to Mayor Hastings. "O, we've sent him out to Dunning," said the mayor.

"But he's not at Dunning, and never has been. I know."

Secret's Out!
The mayor capitulated. "Well, I'll tell you," he said. "Lunardi got away again last Monday, but we're not bothering much. I got a telephone call saying that his Italian friends had decided, instead of suing us, to help him escape and send him back to the old country. I understand he's out in the middle of the ocean by this time."

CATHOLIC DRY IN CITY FIGHT

Join Chicago Federation and Adopt Resolutions
Playing Saloon.

TIDE AGAINST RUM.

The Catholic Total Abstinence union at its forty-fourth annual convention in Paulist hall, 804 Wabash avenue, yesterday, officially joined forces with the Dry Chicago federation, and adopted resolutions declaring for the abolition of the liquor traffic.

Chartermen who condemned alcohol included the Rev. Bishop Paul P. Rhodes and Alexander J. McGavick. The Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, president of the national organization of Catholic total abstinence, in picturing the attitude to be assumed towards the liquor business, said that from the standpoint of the Catholic it could best be expressed in the words of Pope Pius X. of happy memory, "Let us Catholics be in the very van of the anti-alcoholic movement."

Strong Support Urged.
"Let there be no straw men on the committee we appoint to cooperate with the Dry Chicago federation," urged the Rev. Thomas E. Cox in referring to the appointment of five committee members to be selected by the officers of the Catholic Total Abstinence union.

Supt. G. F. Rinehart of the Dry Chicago federation, Charles E. Coleman, chairman of the board of managers of the same organization, and F. B. Ebbert, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, were among secular workers who addressed the convention by invitation.

Bishop McGavick, in a sermon at St. Mary's church, said that the world faces a new understanding about alcohol—that what formerly was called stimulation was the brain fighting against the entrance of poison. Bishop Rhodes termed total abstinence "the perfection of temperance."

Tide Set Against Rum.
The resolutions read in part: "So long as the saloon confines its destroying influence to the male portion of our population, temporary remedies and expedients were first to be thought of, but since the alcohol octopus has enmeshed the whole family in its slimy tentacles with commercialized vice, a symptom of the alcoholic light, with womanhood dishonored and motherhood destroyed, the manhood that remains unskilled must arise in defense till the whole bad business is swept from our land."

PLANS TO HAVE MINISTERS "SIT IN" DURING VACATIONS.

Rogers Park Pastor Proposes That
Colleagues Help Watch Other Out
During Hot Weather.

The hot weather yesterday reminded the Rev. Martin E. Anderson, pastor of the Rogers Park Presbyterian church, that it is getting near vacation time. He preached in the Rogers Park Congregational church at a union service of the Rogers Park Baptist, Congregational, Lutheran, Methodist Episcopal, and Presbyterian churches. It is planned by pastors of these churches to combine their congregations on Sunday evenings all summer.

After preaching on the value of churches working together the Rev. Mr. Anderson proposed a plan for the care of the congregation of each pastor when he is away on his vacation. He had intended to ask his four colleagues to arrange for vacations so all would not be away at once. Then, in case of need, he pointed out any one of them could take care of the pastoral work of the absent minister.

FLY WEEK OPENS TODAY, SO BE UP AND SWATTING

Today is the first working day of "Fly Week."

Obviate it by killing all the flies you can and by doing a way with every bit of filth that attracts flies.

Remember that the most effective swatter of flies is before they have wings or even before the eggs are laid. This can be done by removing any garbage or manure that flies might breed in, or by thoroughly disinfecting it with iron sulphate solution.

Consider that every time you swat a fly you prevent one from hatching that you may be saving a baby's life—or an adult's.

Fewer Flies; Fewer Funerals.

The state of Illinois and the city of Chicago, the Great Chicago Federation, the public school system—all have joined this summer's great crusade to make Chicago flyless. Remember that there are 1,000,000 of you in Chicago and that if each individual will swat the fly as he sees it Chicago will have fewer funerals and fewer jobs for doctors this summer.

The work of this week is education regarding the danger of the fly and the way to keep it from your food or on the body's lips. Don't fail to keep wide awake in fighting the fly from now on.

Your share in the work will be valuable even if you only swat individual flies with a vest pocket fly swatter. You will accomplish still more valuable work if you obtain a fly trap, or a half a dozen of them, and kill several gallons of flies.

The Real Valuable Citizen.

And still more valuable work will be accomplished if you adopt the suggestions contained in the opening paragraph and eliminate a measure heap or garbage leak that may be producing hundreds of flies.

It is assumed that all good fly fighters have carefully screened doors or windows against flies, but if you haven't, get the screen on in a jiffy. See that there are no holes torn in last season's screens.

A little care may save you from an attack of typhoid fever and perhaps the loss of your baby, if you have one. The deadly danger of the fly is an established fact—too vital to be doubted or joked with.

Every time you feel like relaxing, vigilance recall that the fly causes funerals, and up and swat him before he brings one to your house.

On account of the dirty condition of many Chicago alleys, Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson says some of them are so filthy as to almost make a good citizen ashamed to live in Chicago—the prevalence of flies here is greater than in the average of other cities in the same climate in America.

Cleaning up the filth will clean up the flies, for filth is where flies hatch. They often clean places.

Ask the school children in your neighborhood if they have a fly poster in their school today. If so, it will be worth your while to go to it, or to get a pupil to give you a leaflet telling how to fight the fly. Or if your local school does not get the lecture unit later in the week, mark the date and get the children to help you out in fighting flies. The instruction will be thorough, and the average school pupil will be qualified to advise you about fighting flies. If you have a son who is a boy scout, get him to interest his scoutmaster in an organized cleanup campaign in your district for the purpose of doing away with flies.

"Fly Week" Posters.

Your grocer, butcher, and delicatessen man should have "Fly week" posters conspicuously displayed in their places of business. If they haven't any, ask the policeman on the beat to see that they get the posters. Health Commissioner Robertson has arranged to have the police distribute the posters to all food dealers who will accept them and hang them up. If your dealer has enough sympathy with the fly fighting campaign to hang up a fly poster, it should be pretty good evidence that he is careful that the food he sells you is as free from contamination as human care can make it.

OFFICIALS DECIDE TONIGHT AS TO SURFACE STRIKE

Busy to Submit Best Wage
He Considers Possible at Today's Session.

The officials of the surface lines employees expect to know tonight whether it will be necessary to call a strike.

The committee representing the 11,000 employees of the surface lines will meet with President L. A. Bushy (indicated) tonight. They understand that Mr. Bushy will submit to them the best wage offer he believes the company will stand.

Whether or not that is close enough to the lowest scale which the committee representing the union believes the rank and file will accept will be known tonight. If the two representatives of the two organizations are not too far apart, it is believed negotiations will be continued in an effort to settle the differences without arbitration.

In a letter to Mayor Thompson, the officials of the surface lines employees stated that the profits of the surface lines were enormous and that the company might easily pay higher wages without materially affecting the net earnings.

Actual Fare Per Passenger. Statistics were compiled yesterday which show the actual fare of each passenger. The following statement concerning the surface lines was given out at the company's offices:

"As to profits, it appears that the rate of return to those who have financed the surface line enterprises, based upon the average purchase price covering the period since 1907, was a shade over 6 1/2 per cent.—to be exact, 6.65. For the year just closed the rate was but 6.474, substantially under the average. At no time in the last seven years was the return equal to 7 per cent., and 7 per cent is generally regarded as only a fair profit in investments of this character.

"In the popular mind the companies receive 5 cents for each passenger; but by the transfer provisions of the 1907 ordinance approximately seven out of ten passengers avail themselves of transfer privileges and correspondingly reduce the amount received per passenger.

Table of Fare. The following table shows the number of passengers carried and the average fare per passenger on the Chicago surface lines for the last eight years:

Year.	Passenger carried.	Average fare per passenger.
1908	618,800,295	2.595
1909	577,328,130	2.540
1910	728,807,543	2.498
1911	653,785,680	2.480
1912	602,449,615	2.465
1913	1,027,894,511	2.483
1914	1,096,525,011	2.508
1915	1,118,322,129	2.509

The following is a comparison of the average receipts per passenger of the surface line companies in nine cities:

City.	Cents.
New York	3.4
Baltimore	3.4
Philadelphia	3.2
Brooklyn	3.2
St. Louis	3.2
Chicago	2.5
New Orleans	2.5

328 Miles of New Line. "Since Feb. 1, 1907, the companies have extended their lines over 328 miles at a cost of over $10,000,000, and this is exclusive of the millions expended in rehabilitation.

"In public benefits—paying, street cleaning, taxes, special assessments, and other contributions to the public income—the surface lines contribute approximately $18,200 a day. It amounts to $5,272,000 yearly—more than 1 1/2 per cent of its passenger traffic revenue. In New York one company's donation to public benefits is only 12 per cent of its traffic revenue and another only 7 1/2 per cent."

CHOOSE STRIKE ARBITERS TODAY

Carpenters and Bosses Expected to Take First Step for Labor Hearing.

Two men, one representing the Carpenters' District Council and the other the Carpenters' Contractors' Association, are expected to be selected today to arbitrate the strike of 16,000 carpenters. The two men who are selected will name a third man, and the committee will then consider the claims of each side.

The carpenters are insisting on 70 cents an hour. The contractors now demand that 60 cents is all they will pay. It is believed that if the difference are arbitrated, a scale of 65 cents for this year, 67 1/2 cents for next year, and 70 cents for the third year of the agreement will be the arbiters' decision.

The carpenters are eager to get their scale up to 70 cents as a starting point when they take up a new agreement three years hence. For that reason it is believed that their member of the committee will hold out for 70 cents for the last year instead of agreeing to a flat rate of 65 cents an hour for the three years.

Contractors and carpenters alike hope that the arbitration program will go through and the differences be adjusted. The program will go through if the contractors do not attempt to block it at a meeting Wednesday.

The officials of the surface lines are expected to combat the figures of the union officials with these figures.

The elevated lines officials will meet with the representatives of the unions today also. Working conditions will first be taken up.

CHICAGO UNIONS TO PROTEST AGAINST LAWSON VERDICT.

Organized Labor to Hold Mass Meeting Here to Voice Sympathy for Colorado Leader.

A mass meeting of labor unions is to be held in Chicago shortly to protest against the conviction of John R. Lawson, the Colorado mine worker, who was the leader in the strike against the Rockefeller coal mines.

Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal industrial relations committee, will be invited by the Chicago Federation of Labor to address the mass meeting. The action was decided at the federation meeting yesterday. It was suggested by one of the delegates that the subject of Chairman Walsh's address be "The Miscarriage of Justice in America."

Resolutions commending Mr. Walsh for his work in ferreting out conditions in the Colorado situation and his inquiry into the Rockefeller interests there were adopted, and a copy of the resolutions will be forwarded to President Wilson.

A letter from the Colorado Federation of Labor was read. It stated that Lawson was convicted without a fair trial, and urged the union members of the United States to aid him in his appeal to the state supreme court.

Delegate Kane of the Cigar Makers' union invited the federation that the "Big Bill" cigar made by Sam Cosentino of South Bend, Ind., was made by non-union workers. The cigar, he said, bore a picture and the signature of Mayor Thompson.

Major Thompson promised to withdraw his name and signature. Delegate Kane said, "The company employs girls and pays them notoriously low wages."

The unions were urged to write their representatives, protesting against the Lipshutz bill in the legislature, which divides the juries into seasons. Speakers said that it gave corporations a chance to pick juries in seasons when business men were available, and thus get favorable juries.

One Arrested After Stabbing. Joseph Hostile of 2640 South Sawyer avenue was stabbed above his right eye Saturday. Joseph Brayback of 1828 West Twenty-first street was arrested.

QUESTED RECTOR DEFIES BISHOP AND HOLDS CHURCH.

The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond Refuses to Allow Prelate's Appointment in Philadelphia Edition

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—(Special.)—The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, refused today to give up the pulpit to Bishop Rhinelander's appointee and even barred him from the church edifice.

Bishop Rhinelander ousted the Rev. Mr. Richmond from pastoral activities last week and appointed the Rev. Henri Motier Gayley, Huff as the supply until such time as a permanent rector could be selected. When the Rev. Mr. Huff came to St. John's today he found the Rev. Mr. Richmond, who, before a crowd of several thousand people, read a protest to the prelate's action, defying the bishop's authority. The Rev. Mr. Huff heard this document read from outside the church yard gates, as the Rev. Mr. Richmond, reinforced by a 250 pound sentinel, barred the supply.

After the Rev. Mr. Huff had slipped into his automobile and started away the Rev. Mr. Richmond marched into the church and conducted service.

Judge Contest.

association, as an association, has taken no part in the campaign for the reason that the members of the association were not agreed as to advisability of making a campaign.

"Our work, it was thought, was done after the association had indicated by the referendum vote its choice for the bench. Individual members of the association, of course, were not stopped from doing whatever work they desired, either for the ticket approved by the association, or for their personal choices regardless of primary recommendations.

Would Mean Strong Bench.

"And as an individual member of the association I am satisfied that the election of the bar primary choices would give us a strong bench and an able one. Politics, of course, does not enter into the considerations by the Bar association. All that is sought to be achieved is the approval of men believed to be well fitted in every way to discharge the duties of judge.

"Personally I believe the Bar association has done that creditably, and while expressing no opposition to any other candidates in the field I shall be well satisfied if the Bar association recommendations are approved by the electorate today.

"Vote Straight," Cannon Urges.

Acting Chairman Cannon of the Republican managing committee issued his final appeal last night. It was:

"Vote it straight."

"Tomorrow Cook county will have one of the most important elections from the Republican point of view we have had in years. For tomorrow will mark the consummation of the coalition of the Republican and Progressive parties.

"The advice, 'Vote it straight,' has peculiar significance in this election, and of course this advice carries an urgent request to all Republicans to go to the polls and vote. It is of far more importance to Republicans of this county to bring about complete amalgamation of the Republican and Progressive parties than to have a nonpartisan election, which is nothing more than a bipartisan election.

"I want to emphasize this point: Under our present laws there can be no nonpartisan election of judges. An attempt was made by certain bosses to put over a deal for a hand-picked ticket which they described as nonpartisan, but which, as a matter of fact, was nothing more than a bold attempt to control of the judiciary by a small group of men.

Slap at Bipartisans.

"If the bipartisan ticket they proposed had gone through, the vote tomorrow would have been nothing more than a ratification vote of the men these bosses had selected behind closed doors.

"On the other hand, our ticket represents the selection of an open convention of representative Republicans and Progressives. It was nominated after careful consideration of all candidates suggested, and in the judgment of leading men of the Republican and Progressive parties is a ticket worthy of the support of every citizen.

"The election of the Republican ticket tomorrow means the reunion of the Republican and Progressive parties. It means that we will once more present a solid front to our Democratic opponents, and that means the overwhelming victory of the Republican party in 1916.

"This is why I say this is an important election, from a party point of view, as well as from the point of view of good government. And this is why I urge all Republicans to vote the ticket straight tomorrow."

Sabbath Confident of Victory.

Congressman A. J. Sabath, speaking for the Democratic managing committee, predicted the success of the entire Democratic ticket in his last appeal. He claimed that serious defections have been reliably reported from Republican and Progressive ranks—voters who want to register a protest against straight party nominations in selecting men for the bench. He asserted that in both the Republican and Progressive organizations there is a large percentage of the workers who have made up their minds to support the Democratic ticket because they liked the nonpartisan spirit displayed in the making of the Democratic slate.

"The fusion movement," said Mr. Sabath, "that the Republicans talk so much about has been a failure. Part of the Republicans are openly out against the Progressive men on the ticket. A large section of the Progressives is taking a walk-out at the old line Republican judges. There is no harmony anywhere in the ranks. Half a dozen factions are trying to cut each other's throats."

Expect City Hall Split.

The principal defection on which the Democrats are relying for Republican votes in the city hall attitude, following the lead of Mayor Thompson. The mayor has refused to participate in the Republican campaign and has advised his friends to vote for all the sitting judges on both Republican and Democratic tickets. Because of the mayor's attitude the Democrats expect to land the sitting judges on their ticket at least.

The injection of national issues by both party camps has increased the uncertainty of the result, according to admissions made yesterday. The Republicans are counting much on this issue, despite the fact that it was not made prominent except in the ward organization meetings, where only the trained workers congregated. The argument that the success of the entire Republican judicial ticket will encourage the Republican and Progressive coalition to enter the state and national ticket next year has had some effect, but just how much no one seemed to know.

Use Wilson as Argument.

On the other hand, the Democratic chiefs have seized upon the strained relations with Germany to connect prominently the name of President Wilson with the Democratic judicial ticket. They have urged all their workers to appeal to the voters to support the Democratic candidates and thereby send another "message of confidence" to President Wilson. This issue, it is contended by the Republicans, has been brought with some danger for the G. O. P. because of the present hold the president seems to have on the minds and hearts of the people, regardless of politics.

Republicans, however, went to bed last night supremely confident that the Republican and Progressive coalition would sweep its entire ticket to victory today by an overwhelming plurality.

The nonpartisan candidates expressed a strong hope last night that they would win. Edward Maher, spokesman for the five nonpartisans, said:

"We believe that the people sincerely believe that the judiciary should be taken out of politics, as we understand politics in Chicago. We believe that there has been a growing undercurrent in this campaign against both old parties for their insistence upon naming straight party candidates."

BULLDOG, THOUGHT MAD, CAUSES PANIC IN A PARK.

Animal Breaks Loose, Dashes Through Tennis Courts, and Drives One Man Up a Tree.

One man was attacked by a bulldog believed to have been running from tennis and scores of tennis players and others were imperiled and frightened yesterday in Washington park when the animal was loose. It was finally killed by park policemen.

The dog broke its chain by which it had been tethered near its mistress, Mrs. Lillian Rose, 5548 Ingleside avenue, man away, and jumped into the lagoon.

It swam across and attached John Kline, 5337 South Marshfield avenue, catching his clothes in its teeth. Kline tore loose, ripping his trousers, and climbed a tree, the police said.

Tennis players and other recreationists fled. The dog ran on through the park, snapping at every one he passed. Park Policemen James Blank and Walter Straight pursued the animal in a passing automobile and killed it.

COUNCIL OF WA STARTS BATT ON MOSQUITO

North Shore Citizens
Rousing Meeting Opp
Hostilities.

North shore residents formally met on the mosquito yesterday at the Deerfield-Elmhurst High School in Highland Park.

Following an address by Dr. K. L. Lee, assistant state entomologist, Samuel W. Hastings of Highland Park, who acted as chairman, presented the organizations and urged the active cooperation of the organizations and all citizens in the fight against the mosquito. Hastings said that the mosquito is a pest which is not only a nuisance but also a danger to the health of the community. He urged that the mosquito be exterminated by the use of DDT and other chemicals.

The meeting was the result of a suggestion by Mr. McMillan, who is chairman of the public school board, and the gardeners are enlisted in the fight against the mosquito. It is expected that the mosquito will be exterminated by the use of DDT and other chemicals.

Watch for Leaks!

Pay special attention to all pipes and drains. Smash all bottles capable of catching and holding water.

Among the organizations which Hastings expects to cooperate are the Highland Park authorities, the club of Fort Sheridan, the wood council, the Ravinia Civic movement association, and the Great land Park association.

Mr. McMillan paid a visit to the Country club to see what can be done to prevent mosquitoes.

COUNCIL OF WAR STARTS BATTLE ON MOSQUITOES

North Shore Citizens in a Rousing Meeting Open
Hostilities.

North shore residents formally declared war on the mosquito yesterday at a meeting at the Deerfield-Shields high school in Highland Park.

Following an address by Dr. K. McMillan, assistant state entomologist, Mayor Samuel W. Hastings of Highland Park requested to obtain the active cooperation of the organizations and authorities in Fort Sheridan, Highland, and Ravinia park in getting the wet places in the district as effectively as the residents of the suburbs may find life on open porches unalloyed happiness this summer. At Fort Sheridan it is expected that part of Uncle Sam's army will go into action against the mosquito.

The meeting was the result of the Chicago anti-mosquito crusade. E. P. Sedgwick acted as chairman. Others present, besides Mayor Hastings, included F. W. Cushing, manager of the Meigs hotel; Edward Huber, director of public health in Highland Park; Capt. J. D. Everett, Miss Mary Sedgwick, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schneider.

Suggest Boy Scout Aid.
Suggestion from Mr. McMillan that the Boy Scouts, the public school children, and the gardeners be enlisted in the program of mosquito extermination was received enthusiastically. It appeared that all the local organizations would enter into the work. Mr. McMillan said that E. M. Schalk, in charge of the anti-mosquito survey for State Entomologist S. A. Forbes, will make a survey for the Highland Park committee. In order that their efforts may be efficiently directed.

SLEEP COSTS HIM HIS LIFE.

STATE HOSPITAL
FOR GIRLS URGED TO END ABORTION

Public Officials and Physicians at Conference Advise Secret Relief.

NEW LAWS ARE DEMANDED.

MOTHER OF EIGHT
LATEST VICTIM.

Mrs. Antoniana Molka was the mother of eight children. The youngest has just turned 3. She believed the Molka family was large enough and acted accordingly. When she was taken from her residence at 1838 North Winchester avenue to St. Mary's hospital she admitted performing an abortion on herself. Blood poison set in, and she died yesterday. An inquest will be held on Friday. Mrs. Molka was 40 years old.

"Strike at the root of the abortion evil by the immediate establishment of a state maternity home near Chicago where young girls may be taken care of with absolute privacy and without revealing their identity."

In substance this was one of the principal recommendations of the conference yesterday of state, county, and city officials and leading members of the medical profession in the office of Health Commissioner John D. Robertson.

Dr. St. Clair Drake, secretary of the state board of health, was of the opinion the state board of administration, without additional legislative authority, could carry out this recommendation. He thought the board would favor the plan.

At Oak Forest. In case the state does not act President Peter Reiberg of the county board announced he would confer with the county commissioners with a view to the establishment of such an institution at Oak Forest.

As a further incentive for the encouragement of natural childbirth, Coroner Peter Hoffman suggested some method of legitimizing the children and giving them a fair start in the world be adopted. Besides Dr. Robertson, Dr. Drake, Mr. Reiberg, and Mr. Hoffman the conference included Dr. John A. Robison, president of the state board of health, and Dr. James A. Clark, president of the Chicago Medical Society.

Recommendations of Conference. A comprehensive program for the suppression of criminal abortion was recommended by the conference. The recommendations included:

Establishment of a training school for midwives in connection with the county hospital.
Compilation of a list of "known abortionists" for the purpose of checking death certificates signed by physicians and midwives as listed.
Cooperation of local authorities with the state board of health with a view to the speedy revocation of licenses of practitioners who perform criminal abortions.
Cooperation of the postoffice department with the board of health in preventing the use of the mails for advertising or distributing drugs and articles designed to produce abortions.

New State Laws Sought. The legislature was urged to pass the following pending measures:

House bill 724 (the Curran bill) licensing and placing under the supervision of the board of health all maternity homes, lying in hospitals and the like.
Senate bill 213, requiring medical practitioners throughout the state to report all births and deaths, and providing for the registration of all midwives.
House bill 477, restoring to the state board of health the power to revoke physicians' licenses issued before July 1, 1920.

In the sense of the conference that no action should be taken that would interfere with the practice of reputable physicians, it was recommended, however, that doctors receiving abortion cases, self-induced or otherwise, should inform at once, as a matter of protection, the criminal abortion committee of the Chicago Medical Society, of which Dr. W. H. Blackie is chairman.

"In my ten years' experience as coroner we have investigated 738 abortion cases," Mr. Hoffman said. "Out of this number 100 persons have been held to the grand jury on charges of murder or manslaughter. You might call the whole 738 criminal cases, though it is hard to get the evidence."

Refuse to Take Cases. "Naturally hundreds of cases are covered up. If the family keeps quiet, the physician keeps quiet, and the undertaker keeps quiet it is pretty easy to get away with. It is pretty easy to get away with the matter coming to our notice. Many abortions are self-induced."

A safe estimate would be $5 to $10 per cent of all abortions committed," remarked Dr. Clark. "Then the women come to their physicians, too, for medical attention."

And since this recent agitation have been absolutely necessary to take such cases," continued the coroner. "Now these women must be taken care of, and the doctor will protect himself by calling in a brother physician to consult with or informing the abortion committee of the medical society."

"But our chief concern should be to prevent abortion. The state or the county should establish a home where poor girls can go with entire security and

Woman Succumbs;
Midwife in Cell.

The crusade launched by "The Tribune" against commercial abortionists, as the Anna Johnson case called public attention to their activities, brought swift action yesterday following the death of another abortion victim.

Within a half hour after Mrs. Mary Blacynski died in St. Bernard's hospital, Mrs. Veronica Ripczynski, a midwife living at 4856 South Winchester avenue, was locked up in the New City police station on a charge of murder. Although the city council now is engaged in a sweeping investigation of the baby killing trade and other reforms are under way, the arrest of the midwife was the first concrete result of the anti-abortion fight.

In the ordinary course of events as things went before the crusade was started Mrs. Blacynski's case would not have been heard of, probably, until it came into the coroner's office. Then it would have been too late to begin a successful prosecution of the abortionist.

But as soon as Mrs. Blacynski was carried into the hospital from her home at 4842 South Winchester avenue the authorities, learning it was a criminal operation from which she suffered, notified the police. Thanks to the prompt action, detectives were able to get from the victim an ante-mortem statement accusing the midwife.

give birth to a child in a natural way without resorting to the abortionists. "Then provision should be made to have the children legitimized by adoption into good homes or by some other means."

Let Girls in Early. Mr. Reiberg said the maternity ward of the county hospital now receives prospective mothers of illegitimate children, but Dr. Drake objected to the "three months' rule" preventing the girl from entering the hospital early enough to escape the observation of relatives or neighbors. For this reason Dr. Robertson, who made the motion recommending the state institution, incorporated a provision that the home be open to the girl at an early period.

Coroner Hoffman presented a list of the names of all practitioners involved in criminal abortion cases for the last ten years. Copies of this list will be given to the commissioner of health, the state board of health, the chief of police, the state's attorney, and the Chicago Medical Society.

At the instance of Dr. Robertson it was decided to ask the medical education committee of the Chicago Medical Society to outline a plan of schooling for midwives. Dr. Drake said 60 per cent of the women who seek licenses from the state board of health are unable to pass the examination.

The conference formed itself into a permanent body for the suppression of abortion.

CHARGES SHE SLAPPED M. D.

Mrs. Ruth Lightfoot of 8000 Lincoln street was arrested last night on complaint of Isador Greenbaum of 6100 Evans avenue that she had slapped his son, Dr. Fred Greenbaum, while in the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad station at Sixty-third and Wallace streets. Mrs. Lightfoot says she is a physician. She is said to have quarreled with Dr. Greenbaum over a patient.

M. M. Mangasarian
Takes a Bride by Rationalist Vows

Lecturer's Own Words
Make Mary Edna Glendon His Wife.

'OBEY' NOT INCLUDED

Mangasarian Mugurudich Mangasarian, lecturer of the Independent Religious Society, married himself to Miss Mary Edna Glendon of Oak Park yesterday, and Miss Glendon in turn married herself to Mr. Mangasarian. It was a ceremony of mutual pledges of their own devising, and the little word "obey," which began to fall into disfavor with the advent of the feminist movement, was nowhere to be found.

Judge Theodore Brennan was there to represent the state, but even a second ceremony, in which he officiated, was written for him by the bridegroom, so that the service from beginning to end was purely rationalistic. Instead of being questioned, the bridegroom and the bride propounded the questions themselves or made voluntary avowals of their love and truth.

Very Different from This. "I take thee to be my wedded wife, to have and to hold from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish till death us do part," was Mr. Mangasarian's simple speech as he turned to the bride and said:

THE BRIDEGROOM'S PLEDGE.

Mary Edna Glendon, in the presence of Judge Brennan, representing the state of Illinois, and these witnesses, who are our friends, I desire that they and the whole world should know that I love you, and am here now to take you for my lawful wedded wife. I promise to be a faithful, loyal friend and husband to you. It will be my greatest happiness to honor, cherish, protect you, and to give you my undivided affection every day of our married life.

Give me your love, and we shall live together to each other's joy, to the highest end of life, which, as Goethe has defined, are the good, the true, the beautiful.

Miss Glendon's Response. "And very much simpler than the old 'I take thee to be my wedded husband to have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love, honor, and obey, till death us do part,' was Miss Glendon's response:

THE BRIDE'S PLEDGE.

Mangasarian Mugurudich Mangasarian—Ever since I love me I love you, and in the presence of Judge Brennan and our mutual friends I promise to be your faithful, loyal, loving wife. I will honor, cherish, and protect you, and to give you my undivided love.

Then the bridegroom took the pledge again: "Now that we have each made this public profession of our love for each other, let me place upon the fourth finger of your left hand, the hand nearest your heart, this ring as a pledge that I will perform the vows I have just assumed. Let this ring be a token of the devotion," asked Mr. Mangasarian. "I do," Miss Glendon responded. "And may this ring always remind you and me of this wonderful day and hour when I took this pledge to you." "And I to call you husband."

"For the first time," they repeated together, with hands clasped.

Kisses the Bride. The bridegroom kissed the bride. Judge Brennan performed the one for the state.

"Inasmuch as you, Mr. Mangasarian, have expressed your desire to take Miss Glendon for your lawful wedded wife," he said, "and have promised to love, honor, cherish, and care for her in health and in sickness, in prosperity and in adversity, and have confirmed the same by the giving and the receiving of a ring, I do, therefore, now, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the state of Illinois, pronounce you husband and wife, and wish you both much happiness and good fortune in your new relation."

The wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Alfred Jannotta of 170 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, with whom Miss Glendon had made her home.

Exceeds Expenditure—Most of Funds Spent on Pensions.

New York, June 6.—The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching shows a total endowment of $14,850,000, a surplus of $1,500,000, an annual expenditure of $710,000 for the year ending Sept. 30, 1914, according to the ninth annual report made public tonight.

Of this amount $20,000 was spent in administration, $47,000 in educational inquiry, and $643,000 in retiring allowances and pensions, the report says. The total expenditure for allowances since the beginning of the foundation is $1,000,000. The report devoted considerable space to development in the field of pensions, particularly state, local, and municipal pensions for teachers. The Massachusetts Committee's Report on pensions is especially commended by the report.

NATION SUFFRAGE
WOMEN CRY DOWN
WITH MILITANCY

Two Days' Conference Will Take Up Subject Long Kept
Out of Debates.

PLAN FIGHT IN CONGRESS.

Militancy is to be decided in the first mid-year conference of the National American Woman Suffrage association, which opened yesterday at the Hotel Le Salle. The fear that the methods of English suffragists will be invoked by some of the suffragist workers in this country is responsible for the anti-militant attitude.

Hitherto the national organization has refused to consider militancy at all, but it was among the leading topics at one of the conferences in the evening. And militancy is being considered because of the activities of the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage, rival and arch-enemy of the national association.

Fear Militancy in South. The women of the south, it is said, particularly fear the invasion of militancy in the south, and the southern delegates held a conference at which it promised to stick closer than hark to the national organization free in order to ensure the voters at home that it is not courting militancy.

The south will have an important part in the present conference. The first act of the national board was to accept the resignation from the board of Mrs. Dasha Breckinridge of Lexington, Ky., and to elect Mrs. Nellie Nugent Somerville of Greenville, Miss., in her place. Mrs. Breckinridge resigned because the work in Kentucky prevented her from giving the proper amount of time to the national work.

National Board on Hand. Every member of the national board will present a report. Mrs. Katherine Bennett Davis of New York. Those at the preliminary session were Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of New York, president of the national association; Mrs. Stanley McCormick of New York, Mrs. Richard D. Fitzgerald of Massachusetts, Mrs. Orin H. Clark of Kansas, Mich.; Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers of New Haven, Conn.; Mrs. Waverly McCallister of Columbia, Mo., and Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago.

Controversies over the national and state policies between the National association and the Congressional union will be one of the leading points at issue in the conference. The meeting was called for the purpose of determining how to work for a national suffrage amendment in the next congress. The work will not all be confined to Washington. There are congressional district organizations in forty-one states. These organizations are to be urged to use all their influence upon the congress. There is a little group of women who call themselves the Congressional union who say we have abandoned the Susan B. Anthony amendment for the Shafroth.

"We must not abandon the Anthony amendment. But at the last session, when this amendment was voted down we had to give congress something else to consider in the way of national suffrage, and the Shafroth amendment was devised."

Will Fight to End. "We shall always push the Susan B. Anthony amendment until we get it. The Congressional union believe we can get it through the coming session. It is all together on it. It is most unreasonable to believe that. But while we have not the least idea of getting it through, we are going to work on it."

"The Congressional union has been interfering in the state campaigns in New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. It doesn't seem to realize that our national strength comes because of our strength in the states, and members of the organization have been urging men not to vote for suffrage in the state elections. They are following the English militant method."

Police Asked to Look For MRS. IRA H. RISINGER.

Mother of Dentist's Wife Afraid
Daughter Might Commit Suicide —Disappeared on Friday.

The police were asked yesterday to search for Mrs. Ira H. Risinger, who a week ago was made a divorcee in a divorce action instituted by Dr. Ira H. Risinger, a dentist with office in the Marshall field annex. Mrs. Risinger's mother, Mrs. John Harrington of 2317 Seminary avenue, with whom she had been staying, told the police her daughter disappeared last Friday and that she was afraid she might commit suicide.

About a month ago Mrs. Risinger appeared at the office of her husband, from whom she had been separated for about a year, and created a disturbance. Dr. Risinger obtained an injunction the following week restraining her from visiting his place of business. Later he filed suit for divorce, alleging drunkenness.

The police say the man in this picture bears a strong resemblance to "W. H. Winslow," who lies unconscious in St. Luke's hospital. "Winslow," detectives are sure that is not his name, although they so far have been unable to provide him with a more fitting identity—was found in a gas filled room at 417 Plymouth court yesterday. Beside him Mrs. Gladys Locasto of 3157 Southport avenue lay dead. He had registered with her as "W. H. Winslow and wife." The girl in the picture is believed to be Mrs. Locasto, the resemblance in her case impressing the police as equally striking. The photograph reproduced above was found in the room after discovery of the tragedy.

TIED OF BEGGING; POISON.

Russell Armstrong, Who Walks
Into Hospital to Die,
May Survive.

Russell Armstrong, a wagonmaker, walked into the St. Luke's hospital yesterday saying he had taken eight poison tablets.

"I hope this ends it all," he said. "I've been out of work for months. I'm tired of begging. My wife lives at 8781 Dearborn street."

Physicians immediately took charge of Armstrong. He is expected to recover.

WOMAN TO LOOP THE LOOP.

Three years ago, when only 15 years old, Katherine Winslow came to Chicago to study aviation under Max Lillie. After two months she qualified for a license under the rules of the Aero Club of America. And now Miss Winslow plans to be the first woman to loop the loop in an aeroplane. Miss Winslow will begin practicing for this feat at the Cloverfield field during the latter part of the week.

WOMAN KILLED,
MAN OVERCOME
IN GAS TRAGEDY

Mrs. Gladys Locasto Found
Lifeless and 'W. H. Winslow'
Overcome in Locked Room.

PACT OR ACCIDENT?

"W. H. Winslow and wife"—he young, clean cut, and prosperous; she younger and prettier—were found yesterday behind the locked door of a gas filled room at 417 Plymouth court.

The woman, later identified as Mrs. Gladys Locasto of 3157 Southport avenue, was unconscious. At night he was in St. Luke's hospital, unconscious still. Detectives at at his bedside while doctors labored to keep him alive long enough to tell who he is and how the gas in the Plymouth court room happened to be turned on—whether in fulfillment of a suicide pact or by individual design of himself or Mrs. Locasto.

So far the only clue to the young man's identity is the initial "W" embroidered in the collar of his silk handkerchief. The police believe he is interested in a north side garage, but that is only theory.

Nothing to Show His Identity. Although the young man wore clothing of exceptionally good quality, neither money nor letters—nothing that could aid in establishing his identity—was found in the room. A card on which the name "William H. Winslow" was written in pencil. They confessed they were puzzled, but yet could not believe the man had written his real name on the card.

On the ground floor at 417 Plymouth court is a saloon. The upper floors are used by Mrs. William Mans as a rooming house.

Mrs. Mans says the couple rented a room about 2 o'clock in the morning. She asked no questions and they volunteered no information. At noon Mrs. Mans traced an address at 8781 Dearborn street, the name "William H. Winslow" had been written in pencil. They confessed they were puzzled, but yet could not believe the man had written his real name on the card.

Oxygen Machine Restores Breath. William Byrnes, a policeman, broke open the door. Side by side on the bed were "W. H. Winslow and wife," neither dead. An oxygen machine was used to breathe again, but not once did he regain consciousness.

A card found in the woman's handbag bore the name Gladys Locasto and the Southport address. Mrs. W. R. Rosta, a neighbor, identified the box as Mrs. Mary Locasto's, in whose home Mrs. Locasto resided, said she had been with her about a year.

Since separating from her husband, she explained, Mrs. Locasto had earned her living as a laundry worker and had last been employed by the New French Laundry at 216 North Clark street. This formation served to call the attention of the detectives again to the only other article besides the handkerchief found in "Winslow's" pockets—a sovereign base ball schedule issued by the Excelsior Laundry company, 544 North State street and 64 East Twenty-second street.

Leaves Italian Husband. Gertrude Rosta, sister of the neighbor who identified the girl's body, said that Mrs. Locasto, an American, was married to a young Italian a year ago and left him a few months later.

"I last saw her about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. She said she was going to meet a man. They were to go to a party on the south side, she told me. Earlier she had borrowed my green party dress—the one they found in the room with her."

Mrs. Locasto had been in good spirits for a long time. She told me that she never had got an answer to a Christmas letter she sent to her stepfather in Rockford."

Other neighbors said that frequently men called in motor cars for Mrs. Locasto. One, especially, drove a big yellow racer, they remembered. Rosta said that recently Mrs. Locasto had received attention from a man who runs a garage on the north side, but he never had seen the man.

With the card through which Mrs. Locasto was identified the police found in her handbag a postcard picture of a man and a girl. The girl, they said, looked like her. The man of the picture, in the belief of the detectives, bears a strong resemblance to the man in the hospital. In the pocket of a girl's dress was another picture of a girl and a man. The girl was apparently the same, but it was a different man who stood at her side. The police theory is that the man who was photographed is shown in the pocket in the strange husband.

Against Hotel Liquor Sales.

Detectives employed by the dry Sunday forces, led by Attorney Arthur H. McLeod, were busy again yesterday gathering evidence against hotels which keep their bars open to catch transient business. As a result Mr. McLeod said he would make several more warrants tomorrow. He declined to mention the names of the hotels against whom proceedings will be begun. So far as the hotels were concerned, the situation remained unchanged. Those of the proprietors who have kept their bars open Sunday night

If You Would Enjoy Perfect Foot Health and Real Shoe Comfort

I am the only Shoe Specialist in Chicago who makes Shoes enabling the lame to walk, correcting all deformities, such as broken-down arches, weak ankles, corns, callouses, bunions, sore and tender feet, and keeping well feet from becoming ill.

I will build you a pair of special shoes that will give you immediate relief from your trouble. I take plaster paris casts of your feet and construct the shoes over these casts, which necessarily means that every minute detail of your feet is taken into consideration and the proper allowance made for real foot comfort.

Do you know any person among your acquaintances who has feet exactly like yours? Can you wear your Father's, your Mother's, your Sister's or your Brother's Shoes and enjoy real foot comfort? Of course you can't. Your right foot is different from your left. You know your feet are different from those of other people, but you will insist on forcing your feet into shoes that are made over stock lasts from measurements of some other person's feet and then wonder why your feet are deformed, your ankles are weak, your arches broken, why you have corns, callouses, bunions and sore and tender feet. Misfitting shoes are the cause of your troubles. Stop wearing these shoes today and consult me at once. I will build a happy home for your feet in the form of a pair of

For the past 31 years I have been building shoes along scientific lines, and through my efforts thousands of people who had suffered untold agonies from their feet now enjoy perfect foot health.

Stop complaining to your friends about your feet; they can't help you. Your friends have troubles of their own, and while they may lend a willing ear to your tales of woe, they can't relieve you of your foot trouble. Tell your troubles to me. I hold the secret that will return your feet to health. Tender, aching and crippled feet do more than any other one thing to lessen business efficiency and interfere with pleasure. Foot sufferers have come to me by the thousands every year. Some of these sufferers came into my studio with shoes on their feet that squeezed and pinched and caused more pain than if their feet were thrust into a vise. Others had their insteps and arches burst and broken, their ligaments, muscles and nerves torn from their proper places, and even their spines misplaced. They were on the verge of nervous prostration, all due to the crowding of feet into ill fitting shoes.

There are nerves which start in the brain, lead through the spine and end in the toes—these are the nerves that pain and ache and cause so much trouble when the arches are broken and muscles and ligaments torn. Nerve tonics, rheumatism cures, electric treatments, chiropractic treatments, and the like have been tried without any apparent results, simply because the seat of the trouble had not been reached. The only lasting remedy for these troubles lies in a pair of LARSON'S SPECIAL SHOES.

are often confused even by our best physicians. Some of my customers have told me that their cases had been diagnosed as incurable rheumatism, when as a matter of fact they were caused from the strain of broken arches. If you suffer with pain in the limbs, do not experiment. Come to me and have your feet fitted with a pair of LARSON'S SPECIAL SHOES—they will save you many hours of suffering.

Martin Larson <sup>Chicago's Great</sup> Shoe Specialist

369 WEST MADISON STREET—AT THE BRIDGE

Remember, you need not sacrifice style, lightness and neat shape in order to wear the shoes that will do your feet a world of good. My Special Shoes are the best custom work throughout. They are smart, correctly shaped, made in the best selected leathers. The slightly greater first cost of Larson's Shoes is more than made up by the blessing of foot health, true comfort and long wear. A brief description of a few of my Special Shoes is submitted for your perusal.

This is my triumph! I consider that of all the different shoes for the many different foot ailments the most effective is the Sta-Right. Every foot trouble is banished when this shoe is consistently worn. Every sign of flat foot goes with the wearing of the Sta-Right. Reinforced with a steel plate to hold the arches up, with the whalebone in the lining, every ligament of the foot is called on to perform its function—no lagging when this shoe is worn. The impression of being lithe and the joy of a well man is in every step when the "Sta-Right" is given a chance.

A bunion, as you probably know, is an enlarged and inflamed condition of the membranous sac at the ball of the great toe. All bunions are caused from tight, ill-fitting shoes that squeeze the nerves and pull the muscles into a congested mass, causing this inflammation and enlargement. The only remedy known for bunions is shoes that fit all parts of the feet equally, allowing these muscles and nerves to relax and return to their proper place and perform their functions with ease and freedom. The Larson Bunion Removers are the only shoes on the market today so made that when on the feet they remove all the pressure and do not bind and hinder the muscles. Thus they aid the bunions to disappear.

Under this name I offer a type of shoe that actually cures corns and callouses by removing the real cause of them.

The shoe is so shaped and strongly fashioned as to lift the pressure from tender spots along the toes and sides and soles of the feet. This needless suffer pressure produces the agonizing discomfort of corns and their like. You who have used the knife, salves and plasters in vain, be good to yourself—wear a pair of Larson's "Corn Cure" Shoes.

This shoe is designed expressly for the lame and deformed. It is styled the world over as a godsend to humanity. By its invention thousands of lame and deformed are now walking with the ease and grace of the well. It hides all appearances of deformity, is light and serviceable and fits any shoe. It makes both feet appear alike and assures a perfect balance. It makes no difference what caused your deformity or how much shorter one limb is than the other, an M. L. Extension Shoe will permit you to walk without a limp.
